Monitoring and Reporting Director

BUSINESS SITUATION

A Monitoring and Reporting Director’s team needed to find similarity between multiple large lists and record databases. They were at the beginning stage of this new process and found that there were a wide number of large-scale companies and record matchings to execute, across two different complex systems.

SOLUTION

DataMatch Enterprise™ helped them quickly to come up with multiple rounds of probable matches and translate the results into a format where they could manually and easily see the matched exported results. Despite access to this ability, they still prefer to go and manually verify the results - even those that scored 100%. They were able to compare the different dimensions of data, between the 2 datasets and a matched format.

BENEFITS

They appreciated that DataMatch Enterprise™ software is quick and adds the ability to match on multiple dimensions. The company can all export in a variety of formats, organize bringing fields and columns between each of the lists, and perform data cleansing functionalities before performing the data matching process.

Finally the library feature which allows the user to find and extract common suffixes before the matching process.
